We inspire young minds

About Show Kids

We are a Performing Arts organization where young artists learn to sing, dance, and act with the best teaching artists in New York City. We provide an enjoyable space to foster creativity and exploration, a safe and non-competitive environment where participants can grow as artists as they develop fundamental leadership skills. At Show Kids we use progressive education methods, we focus on hands-on projects and social-emotional learning to inspire performers to be their best selves.

Why Show Kids?

We believe the arts are a primal need to our inherent human nature and a powerful way to connect with others and ourselves. Our staff comprises professional singers, actors, dancers, and educators who teach performing arts with a meaningful and empathetic perspective. Our mission is to inspire young souls to become better human beings while discovering their unique voices through unrestrained self-expression and teamwork. We are dedicated to fostering leadership skills, boundless creation, and thoughtful collaboration.

"Show Kids provides a multidisciplinary curriculum framework designed around the values inherent in performing arts."

Program Highlights:

Theatre, music, and dance skills development
Leadership skills: collaboration, self-awareness, resiliency, and growth mindset
Cultural Awareness
An experience of the creative process through teamwork

Bilingual kids

Spanish Through Performing Arts

Participants will learn a second language while having a blast. They will sing Latin Tunes, play theatre games, and learn dance techniques in Spanish. All our teaching artists are native Spanish speakers and professional singers, dancers, and actors with extensive experience in their field. The program culminates in an open class or video performance.

12 in-person sessions residency
One Teaching Artist + One Assistant per session
PreK to 2nd grade: 45 minutes sessions
3rd grade to Middle School: 60 minutes sessions

Broadway kids

Show kids delivers a thrilling, immersive experience of holistic learning based on the magical world of Broadway musicals. Young performers will participate in activities built around specific age-appropriate musicals, involving all aspects of a theatrical production, including singing, dancing, and acting.

This holistic approach reaches every aspect of a child's personality, fostering harmonic well-balanced development. Through movement, kids will improve their flexibility and coordination; through acting and singing, they will focus on their self-confidence, collaboration, imagination, and musicality. Our students do this all while being fully immersed in popular Broadway musicals, sure to keep them active and engaged!

Create your own Showcase

Participants will go through the collaborative experience of putting together a musical or theatre play. They will be involved in all aspects that take place in theater production, including casting, rehearsals, staging, props, costumes, and set design. This program will be tailored to your school/organization's needs. The show could be a 20 to 45 minutes long play depending on the number of sessions your school/organization needs. The performance could be held outdoors, or indoors, or it could be a video or streamed recording depending on the COVID-19 safety protocols in place.

The performance would be a combination of different musical numbers and scenes with a common theme.

5 hours per week for a duration of 12 weeks, including one teaching artist/theatre director and one dance assistant. Total: 50 hours

Script and tracks (No musical license required)

One stage manager for the day of the performance or video recording
